Foreword

Old North Carolina is building up, and Catawba is building with her. Wonderful changes have taken place in the last few years, and still more wonderful will be the changes of the future. These changes have been made possible by a small group of devoted and untiring builders who never faltered, even in the darkest hour, but kept on with a faith and determination which could not be denied.

Like the Old North State, Catawba too has its builders. We all know who they are, and everyone can see that their efforts have not been in vain. To look back over the road we have traveled—to portray the activities of the present—to look forward to the greater Catawba—these are the purposes of the 1929 Swastika.

The Builders

All are architects of Fate,
Working in these walls of Time;
Some with massive deeds and great,
Some with ornaments of rhyme.

Nothing useless is, or low;
Each thing in its place is best;
And what seems but idle show
Strengthens and supports the rest.

For the structure that we raise,
Time is with materials filled;
Our todays and yesterdays
Are the blocks with which we build.

Truly shape and fashion these;
Leave no yawning gaps between;
Think not, because no man sees,
Such things will remain unseen.

In the elder days of Art,
Builders wrought with greatest care
Each minute and unseen part;
For the gods see everywhere.

Let us do our work as well,
Both the unseen and the seen;
Make the house where gods may dwell
Beautiful, entire, and clean.

Else our lives are incomplete,
Standing in these walls of Time,
Broken stairways, where the feet
Stumble, as they seek to climb.

Build today, then, strong and sure,
With a firm and ample base;
And ascending and secure
Shall tomorrow find its place.

Thus alone can we attain
To those turrets, where the eye
Sees the world as one vast plain,
And one boundless reach of sky.

—Henry Wadsworth Longfellow.

The New Catawba

Catawba College, which was formerly situated at Newton, North Carolina, was relocated at Salisbury in September, 1925. The Administration building at Catawba, which was originally intended for an industrial institute, was purchased by the Board of Trustees, and with the addition of Zartman Hall, which was immediately erected, the College began its work.

Since that time Catawba College has entered upon a period of remarkable growth. The evidence of this change is everywhere visible—in the enrollment, in the addition of new buildings, which made the physical plant more adequate, and in the greatly increased number of faculty members. The high standard of the work of the College has become widely accredited. Within a period of only three and a half years, Catawba has risen from a practically unknown institution to a school which is recognized throughout the State as one of the outstanding, if not the outstanding, of the smaller Colleges.

When Catawba College was reopened at Salisbury in 1925, the institution began work with only two buildings, the present Administration Building and Zartman Hall, a girls' dormitory. Since that time, three large buildings have been erected, as well as the president's home. A splendid field has been arranged for all athletic contests in the open. An adequate gymnasium with physical education equipment was constructed at the conclusion of the College's first year's work in its new home. The Home Economics Building and the Faculty Apartments are the other additions. Two other buildings are planned for next year, a Music Building and another Faculty Apartment.

The enrollment of the College has grown in remarkable proportions. In its first year the College contained slightly over a hundred students. The enrollment of the institution at the conclusion of this year's work will be approximately eleven hundred, including those attending the Summer session and others connected with the Extension Department. Catawba's percentage of increase in enrollment was highest of any college in the State during the past year.

The faculty of Catawba College has increased from year to year in order to keep pace with the increased enrollment.

Catawba College has received an "A" grade rating by the College Rating Board of North Carolina. At a meeting at Fort Worth, Texas, in December of last year, the Southern Association of Colleges admitted Catawba to membership in the Association, thus placing the College on a par with any institution in the United States. This achievement stands as the highest in the history of Catawba and is the product of the exceptional period of growth which the institution is now undergoing.

DR. E. R. HOKE
PRESIDENT CATAWBA COLLEGE

Dr. Elmer Rhodes Hoke
President

Probably the greatest individual contributor to the remarkable development of Catawba College since its re-establishment is her beloved President, Dr. Elmer Rhodes Hoke, His work has been most unselfish, and his efforts are manifested in both the physical and spiritual growth of the College.

Dr. Hoke was born at Ada, Ohio, September 16, 1892. He graduated from the Lewistown, Pennsylvania, High School in 1909. His A. B. and M. A. degrees were received from Franklin and Marshall College, the former in 1913, and the latter in 1914. The Theological Seminary of the Reformed Church, Lancaster, Pennsylvania, conferred upon him the B. D. degree in 1917. He received his Ph. D. from Johns Hopkins University in 1922. From 1917-18, he was pastor of the Faith Reformed Church, Trafford, Pennsylvania; and from 1918-20, he served as pastor of the Trinity Reformed Church, Baltimore, Maryland. His career as an instructor extended over a period of four years. He was Professor of Education and Psychology in Hood College from 1920 to 1922, and for the next two years he held the same chair in Lebanon Valley College.

Since August 7, 1924, Dr. Hoke has been President of Catawba College. He took office one year before the College was moved from Newton to Salisbury. As President, he has guided the new Catawba through the most critical period in the history of the institution. He has been the center of a great constructive program and has figured conspicuously in all phases of the College's growth. During the astoundingly brief period, he has served in office, four years, Catawba College has increased physically from one main building to six, with at least one other planned for next year, from a student body of 127 to one of 325, and from a faculty of 17 to one of 24. And to crown all these achievements, Catawba gained for herself national recognition when she was admitted last fall to membership in the Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools of the Southern States.

Surely, the development of the College has been remarkable, and seems destined to continue so under the most capable leadership of President Hoke.

BUILDERS

Out of flesh and blood and nerve and hope and prayer,
Out of aspiration high and lowly toil,
Out of failure triumphed o'er, defeat made fair,
Out of effort brave no blatant foe can foil—
Out of stinging disappointment, deep and keen,
Out of deserved success that spoils us not,
Out of life-mirrored beauty's luring sheen,
Out of hard fact through every vision shot—
Of these, all mingled yet in some order placed,
Thou wouldst, Catawba, help us make a man;
Out of these, worked o'er, with beauty interlaced,
Woman growing into God's and Nature's plan.
Catawba, help us build in us those things
Through which true worth is fused, to which it clings!

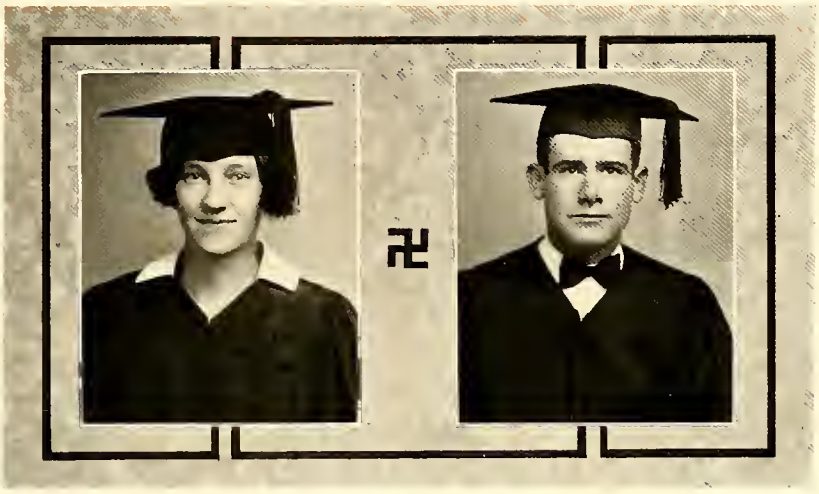
OFFICIAL SENIOR CLASS MASCOT

RICHARD ROY HOKE
HONORARY SENIOR CLASS MASCOT



FRANCES LOUISE ATWELL, A. B. . . Salisbury, North Carolina

Philomathean 1-2-3-4; Rembrandt Club 1-2-3-4; First Year Club 4.

Frances is a most dependable, smooth-working, consistent, and thoroughly practical girl. She rounds out the characteristic qualities of our machine. But a great strain is being placed on her, it is rumored, on account of the weakening of another cog. Frances is one friend you can rely upon. Her unassuming, generous, and eager spirit makes the merit of our class stand out. Frances, we wish we had more like you. We are confident that you will succeed in this world. May wealth of happiness be yours, even though you should fain choose to marry a "butler".

PERRY W. AYCOCK, A. B. . . . . Sharon, South Carolina

Presbyterian College of South Carolina 1; Philomathean 2-3-4; Vice-President 2; Blue Masque 2-3-4; Y. M. C. A. 2-3-4; Varsity Football 2-3-4, Captain 4; Track 2-3-4, Captain 3; Basketball Manager 3; Letter Club 2-3-4, Vice President 3; House Committee 4.

"Red", as he is always called, is known best at Catawba for his wonderful record in athletics. The Class of '29 is very proud to claim as its member one who has contributed to the success of the College as has Aycock. His splendid sportsmanship is indeed to be commended and encouraged. On the football field, he is almost always found on the bottom in the scramble for possession of the ball, but somehow he manages to come out on top in the end. "Red" is a very agreeable and pleasant classmate, and is always true to his friends. Always remember, Aycock lad, that the Class of '29 appreciates what you have done for the Class and for Catawba.

DOROTHY BERLIN, B. S. in Home Economics . . Jenkins, Kentucky

Hood College 1-2-3, Athletic Association 3; Home Economics Club 3; Y. W. C. A. 1-2-3; Catawba College 4; Philomathean 4; Home Economics Club 4.

"Dot" comes to us from Hood College. We think she has never regretted the change, as she seems to love us, and we are very much in love with her. "Dot" is rather an unusual type, for she possesses an amalgamation of qualities that are diverse in their nature. She is studious, very conscientious, reserved, and exceedingly cultural. Yet, she is a good sport and is always ready to socialize when opportunity presents itself. "Dot" is inclined to be very domestic and says she is going to teach "Home Ec.", but we are of the opinion that in about a year she will decide that a certain other profession is more worth while.

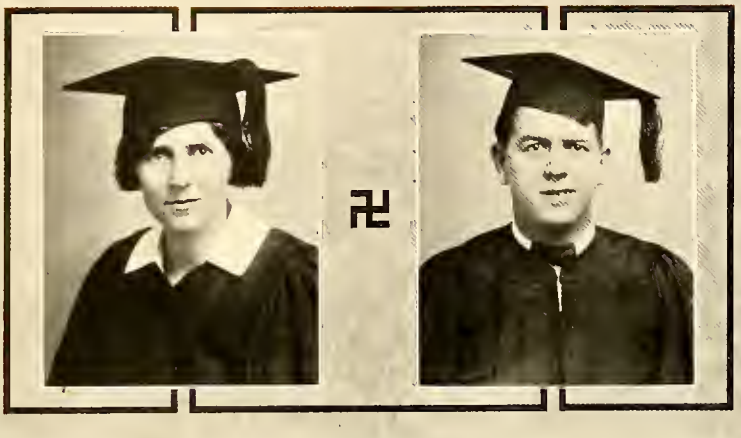
WILLIAM E. BOONE, A. B. . . . . Spencer, North Carolina

Football 1-2-3-4; Baseball 1-2-3-4; President Class '29-2; Philomathean 1; Blue Masque; Rembrandt Club; Business Manager, Swastika 3; Senate 1-2-3-4; President Student Body 4.

Ladies and gentleman, here is a man who has "stuck" with us for four years. In the fall of 1925 when we had mud and ditches galore, "Bunk" waded through it with the rest of us and did not get "stuck up". Now our campus has taken on a different aspect, with pretty green grass and shrubbery here and yonder. Perhaps "Bunk's" presence had something to do with it.

During his four years at Catawba he has made many lasting friends.

"Bunk", all of your friends regret having to part ways with you, and we envy the high place we know you are bound to achieve in the future. Good Luck, Boone!



RUTH BARRINGER, A. B. . . . . Concord, North Carolina

Old Catawba 1-2-3; Rembrandt Club 4; Cabarrus County Club 4; Y. W. C. A. 4; Athenaean Critic 4; House President 4.

Ruth is one of the most loyal students Catawba has. She started her college career at Old Catawba, and after teaching for a few years, decided to come back and graduate with the class of '29. Since coming to Catawba, Ruth has endeared herself to many of us. She is kind to everyone and is always willing to help those in trouble. Ruth has plenty of common sense which prompts us to call upon her for advice. She is happy and congenial. Her sense of humor makes one enjoy her company. Ruth is not only loyal to her Alma Mater, but also to her friends. She is a friend worth having.

J. MAX BRANDON, A. B. . . . . Salisbury, North Carolina

Rembrandt Club 2-3-4; Senate 2; Philomathean 1-2-3-4; Ministerial Band 1-2-3-4; First Year Club 4.

"Max", as he is generally termed by most of the students, perhaps deserves more admiration for his career at Catawba than any other member in the class of '29. Despite the fact that "Max" had a family to support and a pulpit to fill, he entered Catawba in 1925 and went through our College with the best of grades, and a character that seems fearless. Instead of a frown, a smile; instead of a grumble, a hearty handshake and words of cheer; that has been "Max". A man of experience and hardships, but a moral uplifter, with a clean, frank personality. He is a man that should have an eulogy of highest praise.

HUITT R. CARPENTER, A. B. . . . . Lenoir, North Carolina

Athenaean 1-2-3-4, President 2-4, Vice-President 1-2-3; Blue Masque 1-2-3-4, Vice-President 3; Ministerial Band 1-2-3-4, President 1-2-4; Y. M. C. A. 1-2-3-4, Secretary 2; Senate 2-3-4, Vice-President 4; House Committee 2; Football 2; Business Manager Tom Tom 3; First Year Club 4; Glee Club 1; President, Class '29, 3-4.

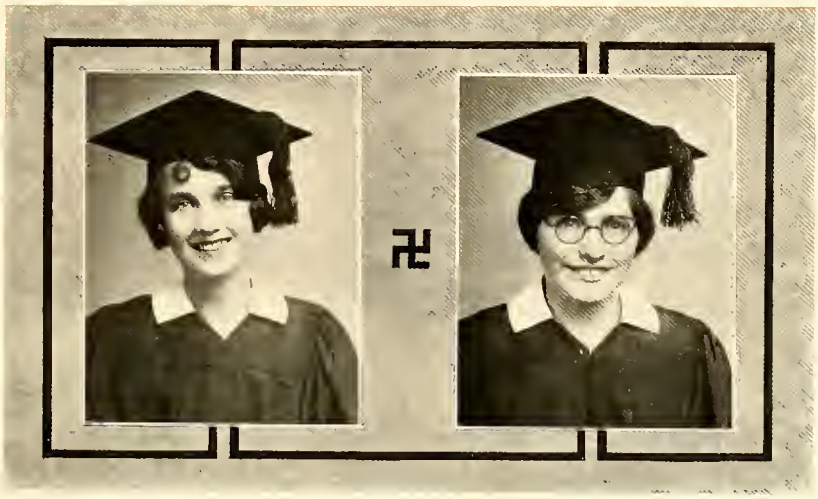
"Carp" came to Catawba in the fall of 1925 with a sincere purpose, a willing heart, and an open mind. He does not "cuss", drink, smoke, or keep late hours. During his stay here he has been, in every sense of the word, a good student, a gentleman, and a true friend. His popularity is not confined to the sterner sex alone, but it extends in all its potency to the realm of the fair sex.

We are expecting big things of "Carp"——just to what extent he will achieve success we can not say, but of his success we are sure. We hate to see you go, "Carp", but you must—so good luck, and here's hoping you a successful career in life.

NAOMI CARRIGAN, A. B. . . . . Mt. Ulla, North Carolina

North Carolina College for Women 1; Rembrandt Club 2-3-4; Athenaean 1; President Red Head Club 3; First Year Club 4.

Here is our "red head"! "Sis" came in with the first of us, and has been a colorful addition to our class. Her reputation as a hostess has made her home a popular rendezvous for some of the Seniors. We have heard, too, that she is interested in athletics, with football taking first place. But "Sis" has another side. Whatever she does, she does well, whether it be studying, keeping house, or playing. She is popular with both students and faculty. Rain or shine, she never loses her sunny disposition. She is the originator of much of the "Campus lingo". Thus, with personality, friends, ability, and determination, your success is assured. "Sis", your future will be happy, for it could not be otherwise.



MARY HELEN CARRIGAN, A. B. . . China Grove, North Carolina

Rembrandt Club 1-2-3-4; Y. W. C. A. 3-4; Athenaean 1-2-3-4.

Mary Helen is one of the few who have been with us for four years, and in that time she, by her winning personality and ability to enter upon any conversation, has made many enduring friends at her Alma Mater.

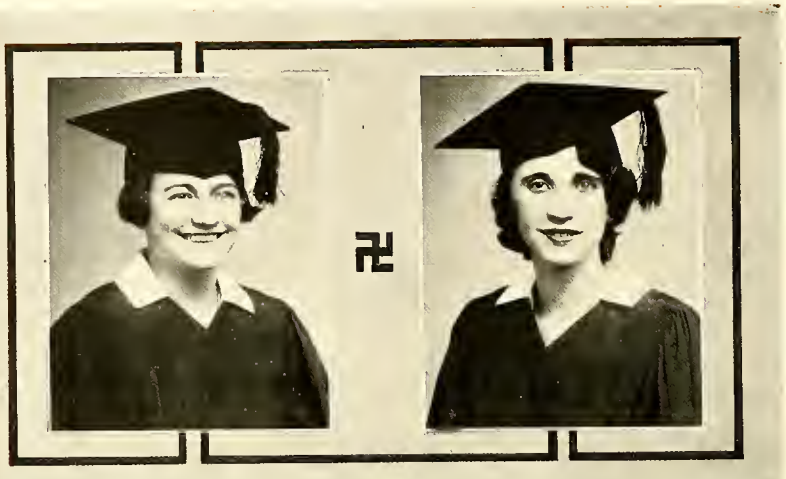
She is not destitute of the crowning essential which makes every woman proud of herself, i. e., the ability to attract men. When Mary Helen plays in "Get Your Man", everything works out successfully.

In her College course, she has preferred History above everything else, and when she asks some pupil next year: "Who discovered America?" her work, which surely will have its rewards, will have begun.

MYRTLE CORRIHER, A. B. . . . . China Grove, North Carolina

Philomathean 1-2; Y. W. C. A. 2-3-4; Blue Masque 1-2-3-4; First Year Club 4; Glee Club 1-2-3-4; Orchestra 4; College Quartette 3-4; Music Club 4; Rembrandt Club 1-4; Pioneer Staff 2; Prophetess, Class '29. 4.

Myrtle is one of our most able students. She is practical, hard-working and clever. Looking over her scholastic record we find few grades that fall short of an "A" rating. We have found during our four years together that there need be no hesitancy in assigning an important task to Myrtle, for no matter how great the responsibility, or how difficult its performance, it would be wisely and ably executed. She is a rare combination of common sense and originality. She has a high code of ethics and lives according to that code. Myrtle, judging from the past, we know that your future can hold naught but success.



NEITA CORRIHER, A. B. . . . . China Grove, North Carolina

Blue Masque 1-2-3-4; Athenaean 2-3-4, President 3; Y. W. C. A. 2-3-4; First Year Club 4; Biology Laboratory Assistant 4.

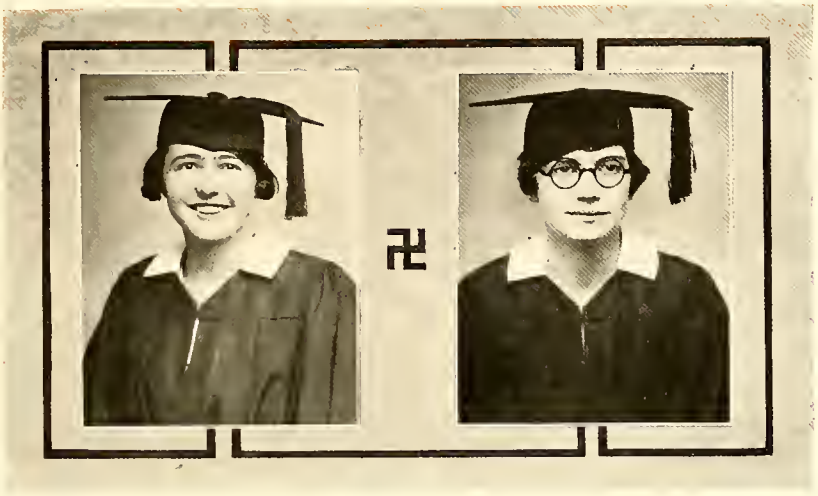
Neita is an all around good student. Sincere in her class work, she always manages to make the "honor roll". Although there may be some outside inspiration, there is also sheer "prespiration". She would make the honor roll under any condition, because she is not disposed to be temperamental, and is an artist to the "nth" degree in all her classes. Neita, we are expecting to hear more from you. As a scientist's wife, may you "carry on" with the great work. May you make the unwritten honor roll of life in the years to come.

MARY ELIZABETH DAVIS, A. B. . . . Salisbury, North Carolina

Philomathean 1-2-3-4, Secretary 1, Critic 2, Vice-President 4; Blue Masque 1-2-3-4, President 1; Glee Club 1; Rembrandt Club 1-2-3-4; Class Vice-President 2; Pioneer Staff 2-3; Y. W. C. A. 2-3-4, Secretary 2-3; President Cabarrus County Club 3-4; Secretary House Committee 2; Schiller Verein 3-4; Physical Education Club 3, Vice-President 3; First Year Club 4.

Mary Elizabeth has been on the campus of Catawba probably more than any other student and is better acquainted with its wiles and pranks than any one else. Her friendly smile of cheerfulness is welcomed by everyone, since it tends to drive all cares away.

As far as intelligence is concerned, Mary Elizabeth is in a class of the select, as is shown by a great majority of "A's" on her report. Whether she teaches English or Modern Languages, she will undoubtedly be good. She also has an exceptional talent in elocution, and it would not surprise us if we should, someday, hear of her reading in some great theatre. Good luck to you, Mary Elizabeth.



MILDRED VERONA DAVIS, B. S. in Home Economics . Linwood, N. C.

North Carolina College for Women 1; Athenaean 2-3-4; Secretary Athenaean 4; French Club 2-3-4; Davidson County Club 2-3-4, Secretary-Treasurer 4; Home Economics Club 4.

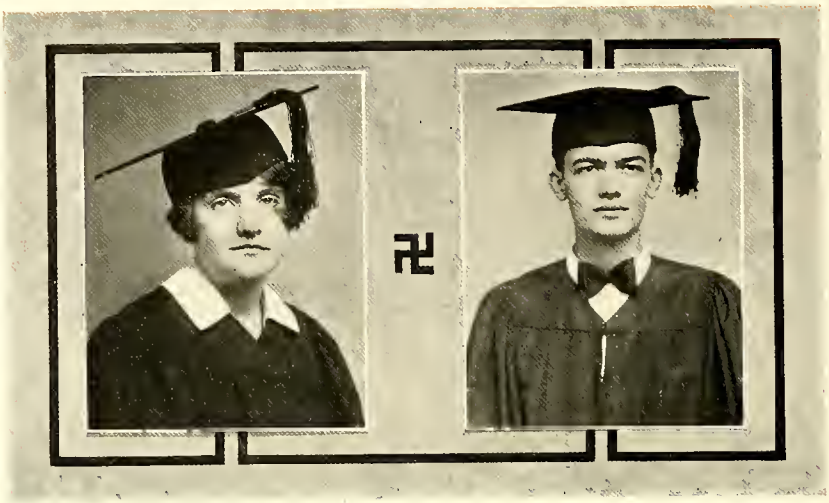
By one who does not know her, Verona would probably be characterized as very modest. But upon a more intimate acquaintance, one learns to know her as she is. She is capable of creating some rare bits of humor, and always knows the proper thing to say. She, too, is one of our Home Economics students, and the man who is fortunate enough to win her heart will indeed have a treasure.

Verona is, seemingly, quiet, and unassuming. She is like the calm after the storm. We all like her for her congeniality and feel sure that some day she will be a wonderful addition to Pinehurst.

FRANCES DECKER, A. B. . . . . Montgomery, Pennsylvania

Thiel College 1; Philomathean 2-3-4, Vice-President 2; Y. W. C. A. 2-3-4, President 4; Schiller Verein 3-4, President 4; Blue Masque 2-3-4; Vice-President 4; Pennsylvania Club 2-3-4; Associate Editor, Tom Tom 2; Pioneer 2-3-4, Social Editor 4; Editor-in-Chief, Swastika 3.

Catawba has been fortunate in having "Fran" as one of its members these three years. She has indeed proved herself a very valuable student in every respect. Her gentle, pleasing, and winning personality is the great power which has won her many friends. She is an excellent example of what one person may do to help make college life successful in all its phases and activities. Her capable leadership in extra-curricular activities, and especially her faithful and successful work as editor-in-chief of the 1928 "Swastika" have placed her in the highest esteem of the whole faculty and student body. Luck to you "Fran" in anything you undertake!



JEAN DUNHAM, A. B. . . . . Salisbury, North Carolina

Glee Club 2-3-4; Remhrandt Club 2-3-4; Blue Masque 3-4; First Year Club 4.

With Jean we always associate the song, "That Red-Head Gal". But, contrary to tradition, Jean is sweet-tempered and likeable. Jean has won in the heart of each member of the student body a place which no other can fill. Ask some of our handsome Romeos who have paid the price. For the last two years she has shown much ability in economics and in other courses in Business Administration. We are expecting her to make a name for herself in the business world. Whatever she does, she will succeed, because such a pleasing personality is just the asset needed to acquire friends, success, and happiness. Atta boy, Jean!

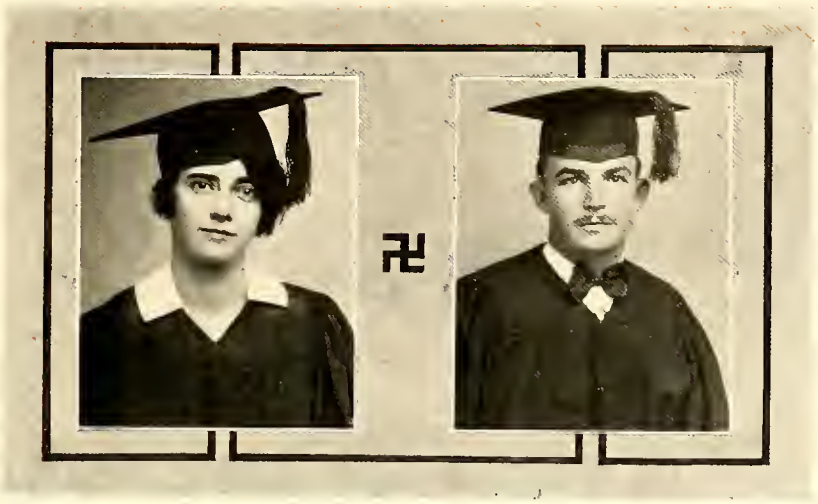
FRANCIS W. EMERSON, A. B. . . . . Salisbury, North Carolina

Track 1; Letter Club 2-3-4; Rembrandt Club 2-3; Pioneer 3; Vice-President, Class, '29, 3; Philomathean 4; Orchestra 4; Music Club 4; First Year Club 4.

Francis is one of the quietest boys on the campus. Although exceedingly quiet, he gets things done in a manner that would surprise many. His grades are the envy and desire of all since they consist of "A's."

He is also a trackman of no mean ability, having been on the first team for several years.

He has great ability for leadership, having held several important offices during his four years. In filling these places, he has shown the dependability and competence which go toward making the ideal officer. We know that Francis will make a great success of life if he continues to press onward as he has done at Catawba.



MARTHA FISHER, B. S. in Home Economics . . Granite Quarry, N. C.

Athenaean 1-2-3-4, Secretary 1; Home Economics Club 4; First Year Club 4; Rembrandt Club 2.

Martha is another of those quiet Seniors whom one frequently sees but seldom hears. We wonder what Martha plans to do after she leaves Catawba———Perhaps she will teach and perhaps she will not; for she is another of the Home Ec., girls, with the Home Ec. student's prospects. Do they not say any girl who takes that course is sure of getting a husband? Well, we do not say that is why Martha chose that as her major, but we do say that the man who gets Martha will have a happy home, for she "can't be beat" and she is not the type to do any beating herself. No "rolling pins" put to that use there!

ROY L. FRAZIER, A. B. . . . . Julian, North Carolina

Elon College 1; Athenaean 2-3-4, Vice-President 4; Y. M. C. A. 2-3-4-; House Committee 2; Football 3-4; Manager Track Team 3; Pioneer Staff 2-3; Letter Club 3-4; Assistant in Biology 4.

When Roy came to Catawba he came with a determination to make good, and this he has done. Although he did not enter Catawba with the class of '29, Roy has gained a welcome place in the hearts of his numerous friends.

He has done his part in putting out winning athletic teams, and for the past two years has been a "regular" on the Blue and White football squad.

In his academic work he has always been consistent. His literary society found in him a loyal and steady member. Roy, we hate to see you leave, but when you leave us, our thoughts go with you.

JULIA FREELAND, B. S. in Home Economics . . Spencer, North Carolina

Philomathean 1-2-3-4; Glee Club 1-2-3-4; Rembrandt Club 1-2-3-4; Spencer Club 2-3-4, Vice-President 2; Feature Editor, Swastika 3; Secretary, Class '29, 3; Blue Masque 1-2-3-4; First Year Club 4; Home Economics Club 4.

One of our neatest girls on the campus—Julia always looks "trim". She seems to get very much enjoyment in everything and makes every other person feel the same. Julia is also one of our Home Economics students—we can easily see her in the future—teaching students how to cook and making them like it—making them like her, too. She is very agreeable and lively; why, Julia is always enthused over something or somebody! One knows Julia at first meeting, one likes her too—and keeps on liking her. We wish Julia success, but already we know she will have it—can not we just see our Julia teaching that class "Color and Design"!

HOWELL G. GABRIEL, A. B. . . . . Salisbury, North Carolina

University of North Carolina 1; Philomathean 2-3-4, President 2; Glee Club 2-3-4; Varsity Football 2-3-4; President Athletic Association 2; Blue Masque 2-3-4, President 2, 4; Y. M. C. A. 2-3-4; Senate 4.

"Diddle", as he is more commonly known, is our "shiek". He is a man—and to say that implies that he is conceited, self-righteous, brave, and strong. Nevertheless, we all like him, and few have even fallen for him during his three years here. He says he is arrow-proof to Cupid's dart, but how do we know?

To speak sincerely, "Diddle" is an all-round good sport. He is our "modern" Shakespeare, without a doubt. "Diddle" and dramatics are synonymous, and to see a play presented by the Blue Masque without his taking part is a rare occurrence. We feel that much praise and great predictions are due to him, but we can only say that some day we hope to hear of him as an outstanding figure in Hollywood, California.

MARY SUSAN GRIGGS, A. B. . . . . Salisbury, North Carolina

Secretary Class '29, 1; Y. W. C. A. 2-3-4; Rembrandt Club 2-3-4; First Year Club 4; Philomathean 1-2, President 2; French Club 1-2; Athenaean 3-4, Vice-President 4; Blue Masque 1-2-3-4.

Mary Susan is a great personality. She brightens the pathway and inspires the souls of those whom she meets. Mary Susan has a marvelous diversity of qualities, characteristics, and tastes.

Let the person deceived, in thinking her whimsical, discover his folly of delusion; that person unaware, simply beholds her wit of intellect and humor of heart. For wit, the sagacious creep off from the fires of subtle irony; for humor, graveyards open their tombs that the dead may rise in laughter.

To conclude, everyone, when he is asked, "Do you like Mary Susan", responds ever with a "Yes!" Of the dear ones and great ones of Old Catawba, Mary Susan will be imprinted upon memories of gold.

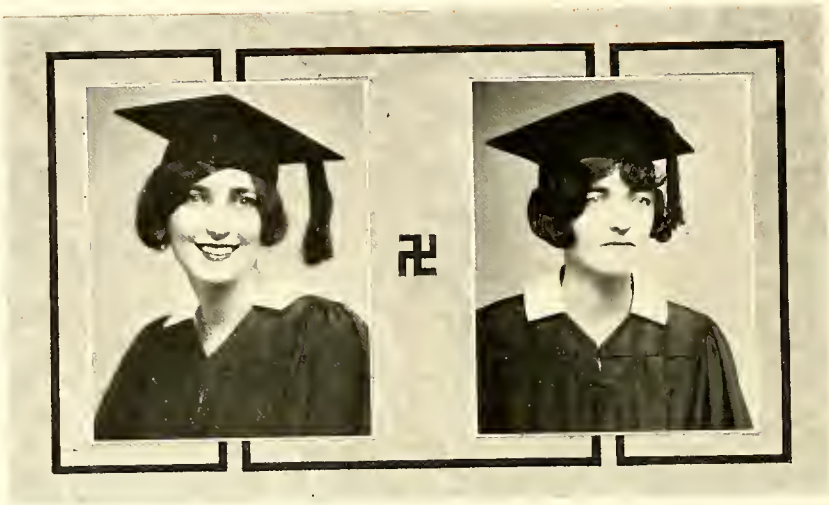
KATHERINE HALL, A. B. . . . . Salisbury, North Carolina

Athenaean 1-2-3-4, Vice-President 3; Blue Masque 1-2-3-4; Y. W. C. A. 2-3-4, Treasurer 2-3; Pioneer Staff 2-3; Swastika Staff 3; Rembrandt Club 2-3, Vice-President 2; Secretary, Debate Council 1; Class Poet 2-4; First Year Club 4.

Katherine has been a consistent literary worker. The Pioneer and Swastika owe much of their success to her. In fact, "Kat" practices what she preaches in her poem, written for the Swastika last year:

"Keep toiling!
Catawba is no place to play, to dream, to drift;
There's much hard work to do and many loads to lift;
Great fame is won by struggle—success is not a gift".

Outside of her literary accomplishments, "Kat" deserves credit for her efforts in bringing her Ford to and from college. Through sunshine and rain, hot weather and cold, she has kept going these many years. How we shall remember that familiar "two-seated affair!"



MARGARET HARRIS, A. B. . . . . Salisbury, North Carolina

Philomathean 1-2-3-4, Secretary 1-2; House Committee 1-3, Secretary 1-3; Blue Masque 1-2-3-4; Rembrandt Club 1-2-3-4; First Year Club 4;

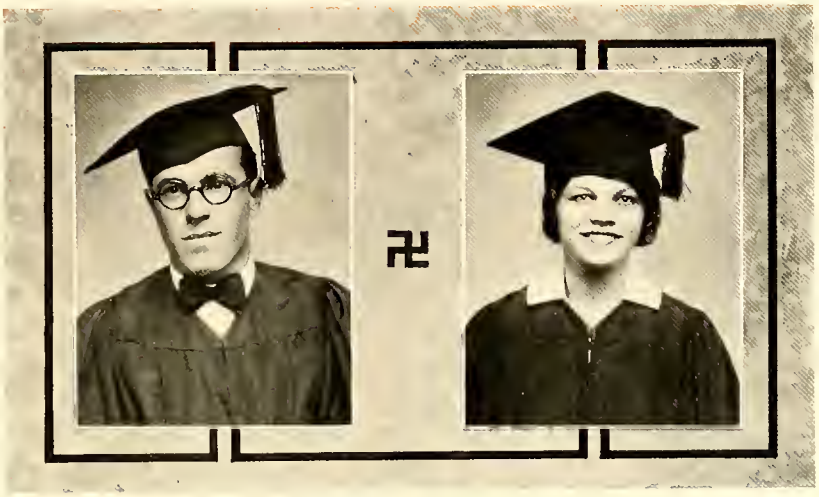
Margaret, or "Peg" as she is sometimes called is one of the most lovable girls on the campus. She has a magnetic personality which has no difficulty in winning the hearts of everyone she comes in contact with. Her unselfishness and sincerity has made her a friend well worth having—real, true, and lasting.

Margaret says she is going to teach; however, we are not so sure. No matter what she does, her quiet nature and smiling disposition are bound to bring her success, friends, and happiness. We still contend that if you combine prettiness, happiness, and originality the result will be—Margaret.

EULA MAE HEDRICK, B. S. Home Economics . . Thomasville N. C.

Y. W. C. A. 3-4; Blue Masque 4; Davidson County Club 3-4; Home Economics Club 4; First Year Club 4; Philomathean 1-2-3.

The Senior class can well boast of Eula. She is one of the most concientious girls on the campus. Those who live in the Home Economics building know her by the name of "Bud". Four years of practice have made Eula one of the best cooks and seamstresses. Such ability is bound to make Eula succeed no matter whether she chooses the professional or the matrimonial world. This year she has been a go—between for Cupid, but we are not so sure Cupid is not preparing an arrow to pierce her heart in the near future. May she be both successful and happy in all she undertakes.



ERASTUS J. HEGLAR, A. B. . . . . Mooresville, North Carolina

Athenaean 1-2-3-4; Treasurer Athenaean 2-3; Glee Club 2-3-4; Y. M. C. A. 2-3-4, Treasurer 2-4; Blue Masque 2-3-4, Treasurer 4; Pioneer Staff 2-3-4; Swastika Staff 2; Class Treasurer 3-4; President House Committee 3.

"Rastus," to most folks, means saw, hammer, nails, general mechanic, electrician, and everything else that it takes to describe a "handy-man". Without him, Mrs. Busby many times would have given up her job, but he has always had time to help her with her most perplexing problems. He is continually making himself useful, and is sometimes a nuisance to some people because of his desire to tease. His independence is the strongest point in his character, and he has had ample opportunity to show his strength. Without his stern indifference to the criticisms of other people many worthwhile things would not have been accomplished.

GRACE HICKS, A. B. . . . . Spencer, North Carolina

Philomathean 1-2-3-4; Glee Club 1-2-3; Blue Masque 1-2-3-4; Spencer Club 1-2-3-4; First Year Club 4; Rembrandt Club 3-4, Secretary Club 4.

Grace comes to us from Spencer. She is a fine student and an outstanding character in our class. She has been with us for the past four years, during which time she has made an enviable record as a student. By nature Grace is quiet and dignified, and possesses a wonderful personality. With such a virtue, she will, no doubt, make some man a good wife. We do not know whether Grace likes what we are saying now or not, for we do not know her attitude toward the sterner sex———more or less.

CATAWBA COLLEGE LIBRARY
Salisbury, North Carolina 28144

MARY HELLER HOKE, A. B. . . . . Salisbury, North Carolina

Philomathean 2-3-4; Pennsylvania Club 2-3-4; Rembrandt Club 2-3-4; Y. W. C. A. 2-3-4.

The Senior Class of '29 considers it a great honor to have Mrs. Hoke as one of its members. She has always been one of us, and will always have a large place in our admiration and affection. If true greatness is to be measured by kindness, loving personality and service, then in this member of our Class is to be found the essence of greatness. She is one of the best students in the College, even though you seldom hear from her. Only after you learn to know her is her real capability recognized. Your Class wishes you good luck always, Mrs. Hoke. May we never forget you as our classmate.

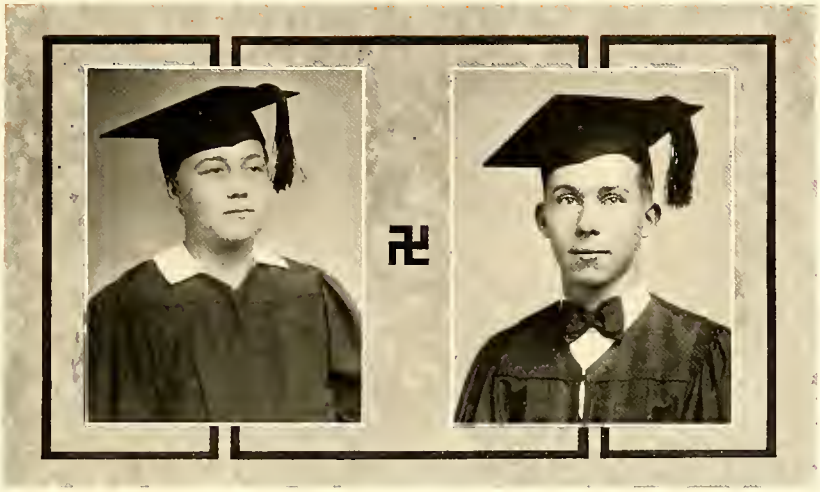
RUTH E. HOLSHOUSER, B. S. in Home Economics . . Rockwell, N. C.

Blue Masque 1-2-3-4; Rembrandt Club 1-2-3-4; First Year Club 4; Athenaean 1-2-3-4, Secretary 2; Glee Club 1-2-3-4; House President 4; Secretary Class '29, 4; Y. W. C. A. 1-2-3-4.

Now just hold still a minute folks, here comes Ruth! She comes to us from Rockwell, and brings with her all those characteristics that make her one of the most charming members of her class.

I could say many things about Ruth, but they are only a small bit in comparison with that smile of hers. Yes, Ruth, that smile of yours will win for you the friendship of the world. If you are not careful, you will catch someone else with it.

Whatever you may do, or wherever you may go, Ruth, we send all our friendship with you. If you conquer the obstacles of the world as you have conquered the problems while in college, we predict for you the greatest success, and happiest future.



MARGARET ELLEN KLUTTZ, A. B. . . Salisbury, North Carolina

Rembrandt Club 1-2; Pioneer Staff 2-3-4; Athenaean 2; Senate 2; Swastika Staff 3; First Year Club 4; Vice-President Girls Athletic Association 2-3.

A good sport—that's "Marge". She's another of the Salisbury girls who have meant much to the class of '29 and to Catawba. English is so much her long suit that she surely does shine in our college publications. As associate editor of The Pioneer for three years, and literary editor of the 1928 Swastika, Margaret certainly has "done her stuff".

Nor is she lacking when it comes to athletics. In the Sophomore year, she was voted the most athletic girl on the campus. In tennis, her preference, she surely can wield a "wicked" racquet. We shall always remember you as a loyal twenty-niner, "Marge". Good luck always!

V. CLIFTON LANIER, A. B. . . . . Welcome, North Carolina

Philomathean 1-2-3-4, Vice-President 1; Senate 2-3-4; Pioneer Staff 2-3-4; Swastika Staff 3; Y. M. C. A. 2-3; Assistant in Chemistry 2-3; German Club 2-3; French Club 2-3-4, President 4; Davidson County Club 4, President 4; Blue Masque 2-3-4; First Year Club 4.

"Noxious" has a great future in medicine. His work in Chemistry has been excellent, and has definitely proven that he is talented in scientific study. His present plans indicate that he will take his M. D. degree at the University of Maryland, where, we feel sure, he will again establish an enviable reputation. He has left in the hearts of every college student who has had the pleasure of his acquaintance, fond recollections of a big-hearted, cheerful and trusty friend. He is every inch a good sport; and incidently, there are doubtless scores of other fair damsels who are covetous of the good fortune of a very pretty little brunette who has been the happy recipient of the majority of his attentions.

ELMO LEONARD, A. B. . . . . Lexington, North Carolina

Letter Club 4; Davidson County Club 4; Athenaenn 1-2-3-4; Blue Masque 4; House Committee 1-4; First Year Club 4; Basketball 1; Football 1-4; Tennis 4; Cheer Leader 2; Y. M. C. A. 4.

Ten to one, you did not know his name was Elmo. But show me a student on the campus who does not know and like "Red". We often hear it said of him that he is happy-go-lucky, and that he does not spend any great amount of time in worrying. Yes, he does believe in having a good time, but none of us can deny that he is sincere and capable, and possesses a marked business ability.

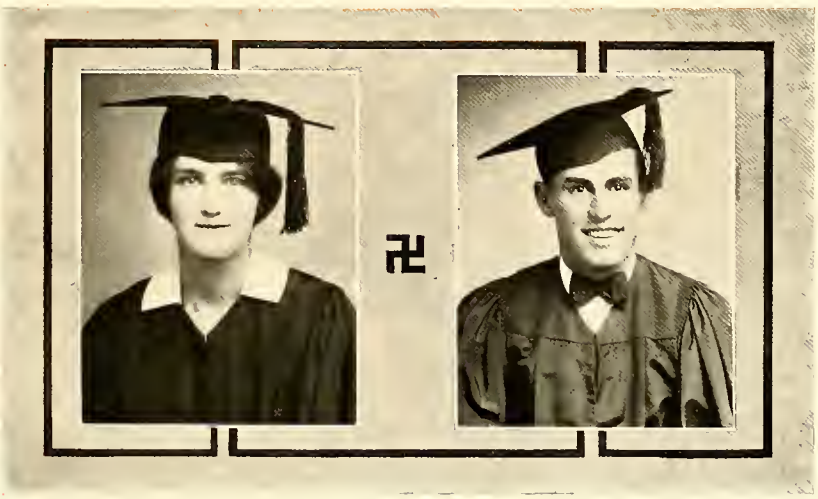
Like the famous lover in literature for whom he is named, he is a very popular ladies' man. This popularity may be partially due to his curly titian locks—in other words his attractive red hair. "Red" we wish you the best of luck in life, and as well as in love. You will surely win then.

JESSIE MILDRED LEONARD, A. B. . . Lexington, North Carolina

Philomathean 1-2-3, Secretary 1; Rembrandt Club 1; Blue Masque 1-2-3-4; Davidson County Club 3-4, Secretary and Treasurer 3; First Year Club 4, Secretary and Treasurer 4; Associate Editor Pioneer 2; President House Committee 4; Assistant in Chemistry 2-3; Historian Class '29, 4.

Entering Catawba as a freshman in '25, "Jet" seems to have made a firm resolution that she was not going to let any man make a fool of her. She has carried it out to this day, as far as we know.

Jessie has not been in the best of health during these years, but yet she has worked willingly and faithfully, making the honor roll almost every year. She has served as student assistant in Chemistry for two years, a place that will wreck anyone. But as Jessie goes out to teach Chemistry, she will radiate to others that loving disposition and intuitive personality within which she has been bound these years.



MARY NICOLSON, A. B. . . . . Salisbury, North Carolina

North Carolina College for Women 1; Catawba 2-3-4.

To know Mary is to know wit. Of all the wit that has ever been spoken, Mary has said about one-half of it. Her witty remarks are always the cause of a bunch of merry giggles. She never speaks very much, but being a mathematician, everything she says is well worked out.

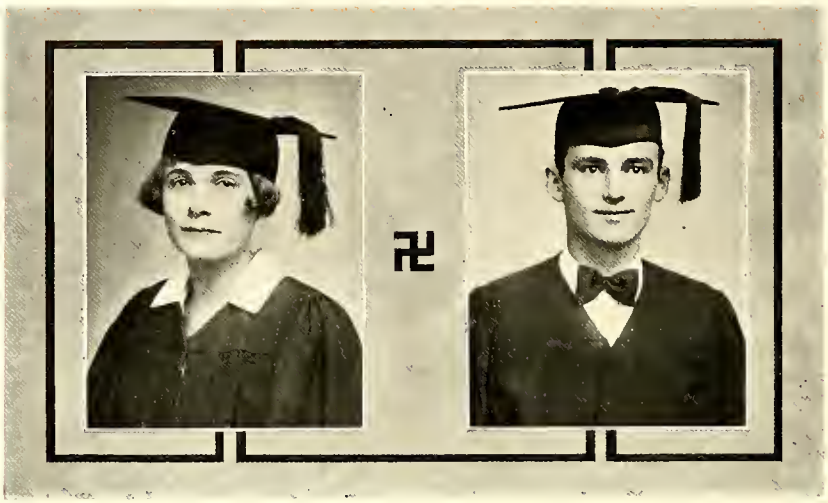
Mary is not a type, but an individual in whom all secrets may be safely kept. Once a friend, she is always a friend, never failing to do her part.

After College days are over, Mary intends to teach. Yes, she can be a school "Marm" all right, and there is no doubt that success awaits her in this great field.

HERBERT MILLER, A. B. . . . . China Grove, North Carolina

Lenoir Rhyne College 1; Weaver College 2; Rembrandt Club 3-4; Football 3-4; Blue Masque 3-4; President, Letter Club 4; President Athletic Council 1; Basketball 3-4; Baseball 3-4.

We scarcely recognize the name, but it is "Chick" just the same. Although he has proven himself an invaluable classmate and member of the student body. Catawba has been wonderfully fortunate in having him on her athletic teams as she leads on to victory. For two years "Chick" has been the familiar figure on gridiron, hardwood floor, and diamond. "Chick" could always recite in history class, even though he did pay fines frequently for excessive chewing. "Chick", always remember to carry the true spirit of Catawba with you—"Hard work, fair play, be a man every day."



EILEEN SEILKOP MYERS, A. B. . . . Salisbury, North Carolina

University of Cincinnati 1-2-3; Special Student in Music, Queen's College, Charlotte, North Carolina; President Remhrandt Cluh 4; Y. W. C. A. 4; Glee Club 4; Music Club 4.

Mrs. Myers, the flaxen-haired Ohio girl, came to Catawba in the fall of 1928 as the wife of Dr. J. W. Myers, a member of the faculty. Her sunny smile, kindly interest, and amiable disposition, immediately enthroned her in the hearts of the faculty and students.

After three years of Business Administration at the University of Cincinnati, this fair lady was entrapped by Dan Cupid and took her rightful place as "The First Lady" of the church.

Always a student, she decided to complete the work begun at the University, and this year she is one of our most honored Seniors.

To this beloved member of our class we extend our best wishes for her future welfare.

NOLAN STEWART PIERCE, A. B. . . . . Memphis, Tennessee

Southwestern College 1-2-3; President Philomathean 4; Blue Masque 4; Tennis Team 4.

This, ladies and gentlemen, is just plain Nolan Pierce from the state of Tennessee. Little seems to be known of his life history, save that he has had a ravenous appetite for celery since birth, and has been a great favorite among the women folks. In the fall of 1928 he transferred his credits and allegiance from Southwestern University in Memphis, Tennessee, to Catawba. In his stay of one year, he has proved to be a great asset to the Senior Class and student body.

Nolan has not definitely decided what his life's work will be, but at present he is engaged in the insurance business. It is almost a certainty that he will succeed in other lines of business as well as he has in the field of insurance.

MILDRED ROGERS, B. S. in Home Economics . . . Kannapolis, N. C.

Philomathean 1-2-3-4; Blue Masque 3-4; Y. W. C. A. 3-4; Home Economics Club 4; Rembrandt Club 2; Physical Education Club 3-4; First Year Club 4; Cabarrus County Club 3-4; President of House Committee 3; Secretary and Treasurer of Girls Athletic Association 3.

Mildred is one of our most promising graduates in Home Economics. Her quartet of years at Catawba has endeared her to the hearts of all her classmates and of others in the student body as well. There has been quite a bit of well—grounded rumors that the majority of her interest has been directed toward another member of her class. We are confident that her training in Home Economics will be very useful in the management of the Minister's home as well as a subject to teach, which she plans to do. It can be said of Mildred that she always has a smile for everyone and is cheerful and ready to lend a hand whenever the occasion demands.

HELEN RUFTY, A. B. . . . . Salisbury, North Carolina

Philomathean 1; Rembrandt Club 4; First Year Club 4.

Helen is conscientious, happy and sincere. To those who do not know her so well she may seem quiet, unassuming and dignified. She believes that if a thing is worth doing, it is worth doing well. She has plenty of common sense and perseverence which go toward making her a good student. Helen puts herself last in her own thoughts, but becomes first in the thoughts of others. She has a ready smile and a sweet disposition which forms a gateway to many friendships. Helen intends to keep house for a certain young gentleman—eventually—ask her!

IRENE RUMPLE, A. B. . . . . Kannapolis, North Carolina

North Carolina College for Women 1; Philomathean 2-3-4; Blue Masque 3-4; House Committee 3-4; Y. W. C. A. 2-3-4, Secretary 4; Rembrandt Club 4; President of Pi Epsilon 4; Cabarrus County Club 3-4.

Here is a girl whose name suits her—and yet it does not. "Irene" means peace, and that fits our Irene to a "T". For whoever saw a more calm, quiet and dignified person than Irene. Oh, but not that objectionable calm, quiet, and dignified type—our Irene is the lovely, loving, lovable one. But we do object to the "Rumple" part of her name, for she is never the least bit rumpled as to clothes or temperment. That is easily remedied, however, since she needs only to substitute another name for her own, and she will probably be doing that before long at any rate.

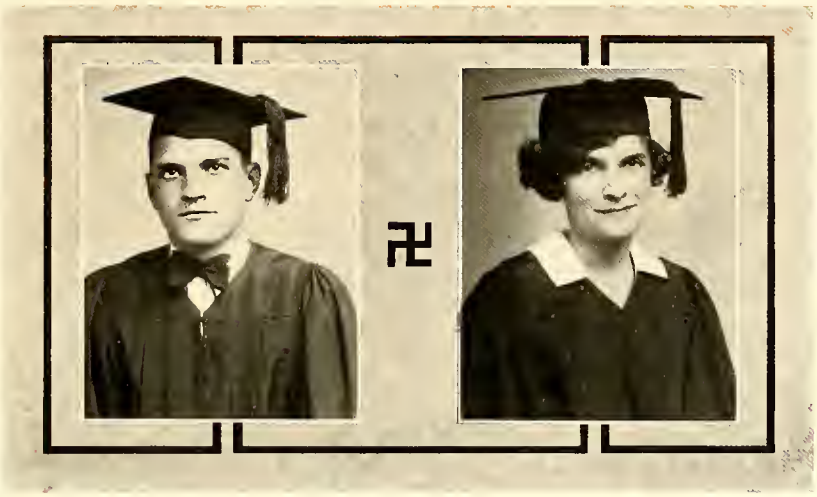
Irene is one of those "scientific" girls who makes biology her major, but she is capable in other lines as well. She has been a valuable person on the staff of the Blue Masque, and she will be greatly missed next year.

MABLE RUMPLE, B. S. in Home Economics . . Kannapolis, N. C.

Philomathean 1-2-3-4; Home Economic Club 4; Secretary-Treasurer Pi Epsilon Club 4; Secretary, Cabarrus County Club 3-4; Blue Masque 3-4; Y. W. C. A. 3-4; First Year Club 4.

What shall we say of Mable? We feel that adequate praise can only be given her by a certain young Sophomore, upon whom we are not allowed to call. Her heart, apparently, has been quite easily pierced by Cupid's arrow, but only once does he hit the mark exactly, and now he is evidently at his wits-end, for she seems to have fallen beyond recovery.

Mable, with all her knowledge of Home Economics, will undoubtedly make a fine mate for some young man, and we should like to prophesy a great future for her in that particular field. Some day we hope to visit you, Mable.



FRED L. RYAN, A. B. . . . . Salisbury, North Carolina

Football 1-2-3-4; Baseball 1-2-3-4, Manager 1; Letter Club 1-2-3-4; Treasurer 4; Manager Basketball 2; Athenaean 1-2; Vice-President Athletic Council 4; President First Year Club 4.

From the time the class of '29 came into being, Fred, or "Clown" has been one of the "Big Boys", not only in size, but also as a leader. His wide popularity has gained for him many honors on the campus. However, with all his honors and popularity, he is still "Clown".

During his entire four years "Clown" has been devoted to his two favorite sports, football and baseball. In both of these he has shown what brawn plus brain and good sportsmanship can really accomplish.

"Clown", we hate to see you go, but here's wishing you great success in everything you do!

NORMA MARGUERITE SEILOP, B. S. Home Economics, Cincinnati, Ohio

University of Cincinnati 1-2-3; Home Economics Club 4; Glee Club 4; Blue Masque 4; Y. W. C. A. 4.

Norma gave only one-fourth of her college career to Catawba, for her first three years were spent at the University of Cincinnati. But she has been a real addition to our class in this last year, and may be an addition to the faculty next year—or at least to the faculty wives. Quiet and studious, but ready for fun, too—that's "Norm". Oh, no, she certainly does not give all her time to study, although we must say that she has spent a great many hours in developing a deep appreciation of "Art". Yes, that little frat pin which she wears, whispers to us that one of these days Norma will indeed be a "Rich" lady. Our one criticism is that she refuses to tell us the date. But, nevertheless, Norma, we wish you happiness.

MARGARET LOUISE SMITH, A. B. . . . . Salisbury, North Carolina

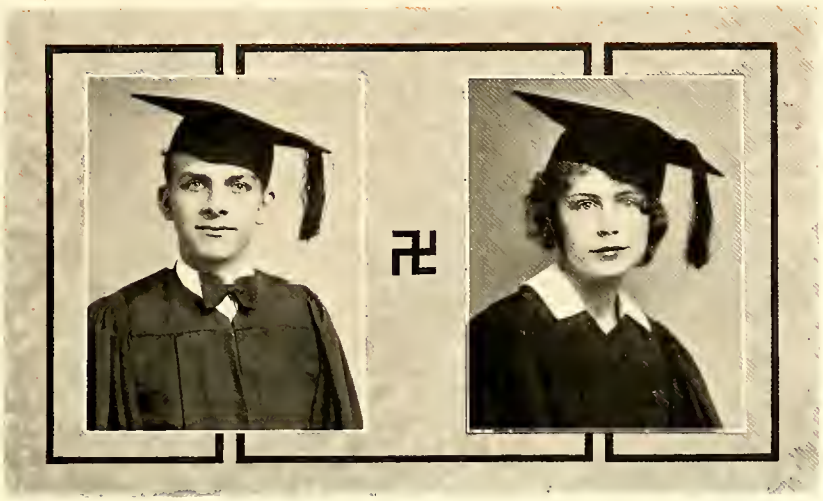
North Carolina College for Women 1; Blue Masque 2.

Margaret was a puzzle last year. This year she is the same. Somehow we just do not know how to rate her. One moment she is unusually quiet; another moment she is bubbling over with enthusiasm; one moment she gets her lessons up; another, it seems, she is up to some "devilment". Margaret's popularity, however, does not seem to wane on account of her "peculiarities". She is popular with the boys in spite of the fact that she is not a flapper. She is popular with the girls, and How! Stick in there, and fight Margaret; we are sure you will succeed in life, no matter what may come.

MARY MARGARET SMITH, B. S. in Home Economics, China Grove, N. C.

Philomathean 1-2-3-4; Rembrandt Club 2; Y. W. C. A. 3; First Year Club 4; Home Economics Club 4.

Mary is unusually quiet and reserved in comparison with many other college girls. One has to pierce the outer cloak, however, to find a warm and cheerful heart within. Mary exemplifies probably to a greater degree than any other the old saying, "Still waters run deep." She is always very conscientious and diligent in her work, and we seldom see Mary idle or loafing. From all indications we can judge that she expects to teach Domestic Science in the future. Mary, your class wishes you good luck, and we hope you will find ample occasion to use your training in cooking and sewing—if not in one way, then in another.



CLARENCE A. TROUTMAN, A. B. . . Salisbury, North Carolina

Philomathean 1; Rembrandt Club 1-2-3-4; Photographic Editor, Swastika 3; Advertising Manager, Pioneer 4.

Troutman's decision in the fall of '25 to cast his lot with our class will long be appreciated by his classmates as well as by the student body at large, because of his loyalty to his class and to the student body in general. Clarence is a warm-hearted, good-natured fellow. You can always see more smiles than frowns on his face. Combined with his scholarly attitude he has a well developed sense of friendship which prevents him from having a single enemy in the entire school. His business ability has won him praise in his able assistance with the 1928 edition of the Swastika. We now commit him to the world, which stands in need of such men as he.

ELIZABETH WARLICK, A. B. . . . . Hickory, North Carolina

Philomathean 1-2-3-4, President 1; Glee Club 1-2-3-4, Secretary-Treasurer 4; Y. W. C. A. 2-3-4, Vice-President 4; Vice-President Music Club 4; Rembrandt Club 2-3-4, President 3; Senate 1; Secretary-Treasurer, Class '29 2; Vice-President House Committee 2; First Year Club 4.

There is much to be said about "Lib". However, we can say nothing other than good. For four years she has been studious, loyal, sympathetic, and always ready to take her part in any collegiate activity. Contrary to modern belief concerning blends, Elizabeth has plenty of both brain-power and will-power. Just try and put anything over on "Lib". However she has an unusual likeness for things "Rusty". We are wondering what will come of this. "Lib" plans to teach in the primary department rather than the high school, and we feel sure she will succeed. Go to it, "Lib"!

CATHERINE WHITENER, A. B. . . . Salisbury, North Carolina

Philomathean 1-2-3-4; Social Editor Pioneer 2; Vice-President, House Committee 1; Blue Masque 1-2-3-4; Secretary Athletic Association 4; Vice-President, Senior Class 4; First Year Club 4; Rembrandt Club 2-3-4; Y. W. C. A. 3-4; French Club 3-4.

"Cat", small in stature but large in mental ability, has been one of our old "stand-bys" in her class and college work since she came to us four years ago. Not only has "Cat" proven her weakness for making "A's", but has exhibited her superior intellect again and again, when ever the occasion arose. It was "Cat" who gave us our name for the Pioneer, who helped organize our student government, and who helped build a bigger and greater Catawba. "Cat" is never at a loss in any field. She can plunge into the deepest realms of philosophical problems with a serious nature, or she can be the life of a group of mirthful students. Success to you "Cat", in life.

MARGARET WITHERSPOON, A. B. . . . Salisbury, North Carolina

North Carolina College for Women 1.

Perhaps, if the most of us would be honest, we would admit that we are envious of Margaret. She has so many of those characteristics which are admirable and desirable—originality, charm, and personality. Special mention should be made of Margaret's high scholastic rating. Her brain is one of the keenest type, and she has done excellent work.

We have not been able to know "Peg" as well as we might wish, for her social duties apart from Collegiate activities have demanded a greater part of her time. In spite of her active social life, she has succeeded in winning many friends on the campus by her ready smile and her gay spirit of comradeship. Margaret, we prophesy for you a life of happiness and accomplishment.

FLORENCE A. WEHR, B. S. Business Administration, Elizabethville, Penn.

Keystone State Normal School 1-2-3; Y. W. C. A. 4; Blue Masque 4; Rembrandt Club 4; Glee Club 1; Pennsylvania Club 4; Secretary of Music Club 4.

After spending her Freshman, Sophomore and Junior years in colleges of the Keystone State, Florence came to Catawba. We sincerely regret that these three years were not passed with us, for it would have been to the advantage of the class. Florence is a girl whom few of us are privileged to know intimately, for she is shy and reserved. She is especially talented musically. In addition to being an excellent organist, she has unquestionably the purest and strongest contralto voice in the Glee Club. Paralleled to her musical ability is her high scholastic rating. Florence, we need not wish you success and happ ness, for that is innate within you.

HELEN WATSON, A. B. . . . . Salisbury, North Carolina

Mitchell College 1-2-3; Y. W. C. A. 4; Rembrandt Club 4.

A sincere friend, that's Helen! On account of her quiet and unassuming manner, many have not learned to appreciate her true worth, but that is their loss. The first three years of her college career were spent elsewhere, and in the fall of 1928 she embarked upon her senior year with the class of '29. She has been a fine addition to our class. Knowing only the highest and best in life herself, she can only think of others. To such a one the future can bring naught but happiness. Success awaits you, Helen, in your future life, whether as wife or in any other undertaking that you might decide on.

SENIOR CLASS POEM

Four years have passed! And yet it seems like yesterday
That we as freshman made our way
To new Catawba;
The place was new and to us all looked sadly incomplete.
Howe'er we stayed—our freshman class would ne'er retreat.
We loved Catawba!

How proudly have we watched you as you grew
To be great, while still so new,
Fair Alma Mater!
And proudly have we toiled, the class of twenty-nine,
For standards that would not dishonor thine
Nor thy dear name, "Catawba"

And now we leave thee, Alma Mater, friends and classmates dear.
Perhaps 'twill cost a hidden sigh or unswept tear
To say "Goodbye, Catawba"
And yet we smile, for e'er we leave the fates decree
That we be armed with our degree
From fair Catawba.

We face the future! how dim and distant it would seem
Were it not for thy guiding beam
Dear Alma Mater.
Oh, may thy teachings always be our guilding light
And may the ties grow stronger that unite
Our class and thee, Catawba.

—K. Hall.

HISTORY OF THE CLASS OF '29

In September, 1925, we, the Class of '29, answered the call for students at Catawba and bravely waded across the muddy campus, and stumbled over the bricks, planks, and assorted debris which filled a large part of the entrance to the Administration Building. With much fear and trepidation we registered and became the Pioneer Class of the New Catawba.

Our first year was filled with some of the hardships that always confront pioneers. We met with the problem of trying to occupy in comfort buildings that were not complete. In blankets and overcoats we were obliged to shiver until the heating system could be installed. Many were the bruises received and false steps on the shaky plank walks, and great was the physical and mental energy spent in contriving ways to cross in safety the campus which was filled with small lakes and bogs.

In spite of all our difficulties we were richly rewarded for our perseverance during that first year. Since the upper classmen were so greatly in the minority we were given many privileges and positions that freshmen seldom enjoy. Pleasant are the memories of evenings spent at social gatherings in Zartman Hall, and very happy were we as we often bumped gaily into town in the old College Bus. Most important of all we developed a comradeship, a spirit of loyalty to our Class and Alma Mater which has featured greatly in the development of Catawba.

The next year, along with the dignity that resulted from our high position as Sophomores, came many changes in our life at College. To our joy, we found a splendidly equiped gymnasium ready for use, and a coach to train our athletic teams which were developing from a rather feeble group into the formidable Indians. Many improvements had been made in the general appearance of the campus.

As Juniors we saw other innovations at Catawba. New buildings were erected, an athletic field completed, new departments added, and the endowment increased to one million dollars.

During our Senior year came the crowning event in the history of the College, when Catawba was admittd to membership in the Southern Association of Accredited Colleges.

In reviewing our history we find that our Class has made many contributions to the Alma Mater. To athletics we have given some of the bravest Indians that will ever go on the warpath. To all student activities, and especially to the Blue Masque, we have given much material. Perhaps our greatest contribution has been to student government which we have supplied with capable officers, and loyally supported. Like our pioneer fore-fathers we have helped establish an efficient government.

Thus we have given a very brief history of our four years at College. We feel that we have occupied an enviable position in working with our president, faculty, and trustees to establish an institution.

In the future, as in the past, we, the Pioneer Class, pledge our loyal support to the building of a greater and better Catawba.

Jessie Leonard, Historian.

SENIOR CLASS PROPHECY

One evening, just as the sun was setting, I was strolling among the pines thinking of the class of '29 and wondering what their future might be. A mocking bird began to sing. I stopped to look for him when suddenly there appeared before me a beautiful maiden, with dazzling wings and curly locks falling over her shoulders. She wore a white robe which hung in soft folds. In her left hand she carried a golden wheel. As she came near to me I saw on the hub of this wheel the numerals 29. There were nine spokes, each of which bore an inscription. Their inscriptions were: Education, Medicine, Law, Religion, Commerce, Literature, Forestry, Society, and Matrimony. In her right hand was a scepter.

Smiling, she raised the wheel and said: "I am Fortuna, the goddess of Fortune. I have brought this magic wheel to forecast to you the destiny of the class of '29.. So soon you are to part and be scattered over the world as a farmer sows his grain. Like the individual grains you have been one family, happy together. Soon you are to grow alone and bring forth your own harvest."

I gazed into her radiant face and exclaimed, "Tell me, Fortuna, where the members of the class of '29 will be in 1940, and what each will be doing?"

As I called the roll of our class she spun the Wheel of Furtune and gave me these prophecies.

"In the Field of Education, Mary Susan Griggs is Professor of Zoology of Yale University; Mary Nicolson is professor of Mathematics of Catawba College; Mary Elizabeth Davis is Director of Dramatic Art in the city of Richmond, Virginia; Verona Davis is State Superintendent of the Home Economics Department in North Carolina; Martha Fisher is teaching Home Economics at a Mission Station in the Argentine Republic; Howell Gabriel is Professor of Drama of Hollywood, California; Erastus Heglar is Professor of History of Lenoir-Rhyne College; Catherine Whitener is Dr. of Philosophy at Columbia University; Ruth Barringer is Supervisor of the Intermediate Grades of the Asheville City Schools; Jessie Leonard is Director of Dramatic Art at Winthrop College in South Carolina; Irene Rumple is State Supervisor of Primary Education in Georgia; Elizabeth Warlick is President of the North Carolina Dramatic Association; Frances Decker is chief Librarian and wife of a Psychology Professor at Catawba College; Julia Freeland is Professor of Home Economics of the North Carolina College for Women; Fred Ryan is Director of Physical Education at Mar's Hill College; Florence Wehr is Professor of Business Administration of Pennsylvania State College; Herbert Miller is Director of Physical Education for boys at Guilford College.

"In the Field of Medicine, Clifton Lanier is Chief Surgeon of Lexington Hospital; Perry Aycock is a prominent dentist in Columbia, South Carolina; Helen Watson is head nurse in Johns Hopkins; Margaret Smith is laboratory technician in the Presbyterian Hospital, New York.

"In the Employment of Law, William Boone is Clerk of Court of Rowan County, North Carolina; Nolan Pierce is a lawyer in Nashville, Tennessee.

"In the Calling of Religion, J. Max Brandon is Pastor of the First Methodist Church in High Point; Grace Hicks is Director of Religious Education of the First Methodist Church, Salisbury, North Carolina; Huitt Carpenter is Pastor of the First Reformed Church, Lenoir, North Carolina, and President of the North Carolina Classis of the Reformed Church; Margaret Kluttz is Superintendent of the Young People's Division of the North Carolina Sunday School Association.

"In the Commercial World, Mary Smith is manager of the Milan Shop in Birmingham, Alabama; Clarence Troutman is Business Manager of Ivy's Department Store in Charlotte; Elmo Leonard is President of the Lexington Cotton Mill Association; Eula Hedrick is Chief Lady of Lake Lure Inn, Western North Carolina; Helen Rufty is Manager of her father's grocery store in Salisbury; Naomi Carrigan is Superintendent of Green Wood Inn, Sunset Hills, Greensboro, North Carolina; Jean Dunham is Chief Manager of Mademoiselle Jeanne Modiste Shoppe, Atlanta, Georgia.

"In the Literary Field, Frances Emerson is the romantic poet of New Mexico; Katherine Hall is North Carolina's most famous novelist.

"In Forestry, Roy Frazier is Governmental Superintendent of the Forest Reserve of Western North Carolina. In Society, Margaret Witherspoon is president of the Woman's Club, Greensboro, North Carolina.

"In the Field of Matrimony, Norma Seilkop is enjoying keeping an apartment for a Music Professor at Catawba College; Margaret Harris has recently become the wife of a prominent lawyer of Salisbury; Mabel Rumple, at last, is engaged to a Traveling Salesman; Mrs. Eileen Myers is president of the Woman's Missionery Society of the Potomac Synod; Mary Helen Carrigan is the wife of a prominent merchant in Statesville, North Carolina; Frances Atwell is the wife of a Presbyterian Minister in Eastern North Carolina; Dorthy Berlin is keeping the home-fires burning in a West Virginia fireside, putting Home Economics into actual practice; Mrs. Mary Hoke is patiently rearing four future presidents; Ruth Holshouser is comforting a successful Druggist in Rockwell, North Carolina; Mildred Rodgers is employing her knowledge of Home Economics to feed an outstanding minister in Lenoir, North Carolina; Neita Corriher is aiding a scientist in his professorship at Catawba College.

"Surely Fortune has smiled on the class of '29. They in turn are to reward her with their good deeds."

Suddenly she was gone. I hastened to my room and recorded this—the Prophecy of the Class of '29.

Myrtle Corriher, Prophetess.

CATAWBA SONNET

Great tower! towering, towering high,
To thy feet again let me draw nigh;
Let your youthful walls burst on my ear
With voices which I am wont to cheer,
For my knees take shaky sway,
And my head has earned its grey;
Yet, with a heart young and strong,
My soul sings youth's glad song.

Life is sweet, however 'tis wrung,
And it is the same, no matter how old;
Once I was ambitiously young,
But now I grow totteringly cold;
And, now as then, I cherish Catawba Free,
And so shall it ever be.

JUNIOR CLASS POEM

CATAWBA

Three years ago who opened her door,
Inspiring freshmen to explore,
And seek for knowledge there in store?
Catawba!

Who waved her colors blue and white
Beckoning us to choose the right
That we might ably win the fight?
Catawba!

Who has climbed the tower of fame
And fair and squarely played the game
Adding honor to each name?
Catawba!

Can we ever cease to be
Faithful, loyal, true to thee
Who has served us faithfully,
Catawba?

Never! the thought we could not bear,
And as God please our lives to spare
We hope to ever do our share
For dear Catawba!

—Phoebe Hall '30

Junior Class History

"Histories makes men wise". Therefore, read ye this History of the most noble, the most renowned, the most magnanimous Class of '30, and become enlightened.

I would not appear meretricious, nor would I invoke upon myself the accusation that I am guilty of charlatanism; but it is my duty to present the unmitigated facts in such a way as to prove convincingly that the Class of '30 is far above the common herd, physically, intellectually, and especially morally.

Our intellectual precocity is anomalous. That we are infinitely superior to the other classes is rarely disputed, except by the Freshmen, Sophomores, Seniors, and the ever contentious Faculty. In the field of intellectual achievement we have contributed such remarkable geniuses as Phoebe Hall, James Warlick, Ralph Long, Earl Long, Frankie Craven, and others too numerous to mention without the aid of a stenographer.

Do not conclude that it is only in the field of the intellect that our supereminent Class of '30 is prominent. We have donated of our own free will such men as Foil Essick, James Warlick, Charles Warlick, Kermit Neese, and J. W. Byers to student activities. They are integrally associated with nearly every organization of good repute on the campus and with some organizations which may be otherwise described.

Our intellectual superiority having been made apparent, allow me to remind the reader of this History that we have made such outstanding contributions to the athletic teams as Archie White, Rowe Fesperman, Glenn Safrit, T. W. Summersett, James Fletcher, and Arthur Smith. These men ably demonstrate the superiority of the class of '30 in the field of sports.

No one has ever denied that our Class contains the fairest damsels on the campus. Consider Edwina Conrad, Annie Maie Benton, and Betty Kieffer! 'Nuff Sed!

In attempting what appears to be my hardest task, that is, to prove that the Class of '30 is superior morally, I can first point out, as a shining light, Kendall Shoffner, president of the student Y. M. C. A. Then, too, the Class has made such great contributions to the Ministerial Band as Nelson Brown, Clair Rhodes, Charles Warlick, and Rowe Fesperman.

There are many contributions for which the Class of '30 will never receive just recognition. For instance, our Class contributed three of the men who composed the 1928 "Little Six Champion" Debating Team: Kermit Neese, Charles Warlick, and Allen Dobey. Then, too, we will never be thanked for not coercing the student body to listen to a solo by Howard Newcomb, our outstanding "song-bird". Such is the way of life.

Superciliously yours,
Allen Dobey, Historian.

SOPHOMORE CLASS POEM

A Sophomore has a fearsome task
To impress the "Frosh", yet not be a fool;
In the Professor's smile to bask,
Yet sprinkle hilarity through the school.

Those ahead still charge conceit
Because we think we know it all—
Why Columbus and Joshua did not meet,
How Ferdinand and Francis proved it all.

Monads and cells and H_2O,
Honi soit and J'aime vous,
We've mastered these, but Hamlet—Oh!
Presents too stern a task to do.

Sprechen-sie Deutsch and custard pie
Fill us with wisdom and delight;
Learning, with a come-hither eye,
Controls our thinking day and night.

Football and war dance when we win,
Loyal faith should we ever loose;
No knocking here, for that's a sin;
No lying when we have no news.

Loyal, every heart in us!
Catawba ever held on high;
We'll never shirk and never fuss;
We'll back her, loyal, till we die!

—Ethel Lyerly.

HISTORY OF THE SOPHOMORE CLASS

Freshmen, so we were told by the class of '30, should be seen and not heard, therefore we crossed out the '30 which they had painted on the tower of the administration building, painted our '31 above it, and planted our colors high. We were seen; the sophomores were heard! But that was last year. Now we have become Sophomores and have put away childish things. We have grown a year older and we have developed an Ego, perhaps Wego would be the better word, for united we stand, but divided we fall.

We are very proud of ourselves and we feel that a great part of Catawba's fame is due to the overwhelming generosity of the class of '31. To the Senate, the backbone of student government, we have given two of our outstanding mates: Mr. Blackmon, our president, who is treasurer of the student body, and Miss Mary Morefield. Mr. Levens, our treasurer, has won fame as an eloquent debater, as president of the Athenaean Literary Society, and as a devout member of the Ministerial Band and the Y. M. C. A. To the Debating Team we also gave Mr. Nace, who has been chosen as alternate debater for two seasons; he also holds responsible offices in the Music Club and Orchestra. To the Editorial Staff of the Pioneer we have given ten of our literary masters. We were represented by Mr. Canup, Mr. Holsinger and others on the football team, and by Carl Everhart on the basket ball team. Our honorable president is also the vice-president of the Y. M. C. A., and treasurer of the Athenaean Literary Society. That we are capable of using many-syllable words can be proved beyond a doubt by the number of Sophomores taking a course in the English Dictionary. We believe that we will be able to produce several learned and loquacious orators comparable to and surpassed by only Mr. "Ike" Boone, Mr. "Diddle" Gabriel, and Mr. "Jimmy" Warlick. We occupy a large section in chapel, and we feel that our widespread popularity is due to this and the above mentioned accomplishments.

Anon, and ever Anon, we have had three faculty advisers in our brief existence. These most worthy persons were Mr. Lane, professor of English, Dr. Rea, professor of Economics, and Dr. Derendinger, professor of Art, German, and History. We believe that we have had three of the best faculty advisers available at Catawba, and we stand ready to challenge any who dares dispute our word.

But seriously, as a class we aim to advance, to the utmost of our power, the interests of the college, and to forget self-glory in gaining for our Alma Mater.

—Margaret Eller, Historian.

FRESHMAN CLASS POEM

THE OPEN DOOR

There's a door that opens
Into the hall of Life,
Where mingle the men of the earth,
Where are found workers, artists,
Peasants and princes,
Dreamers of dreams and deeds of worth.
All must leave some scar
On the wall of Time,
Some footprint on the sands of Chance,
Some guide for those
Who follow close behind,
Caught in Life's rushing, drifting romance.
There is work and adventure for all
Who answer Life's strangely beckoning call.
Each task to some other is intertwined,
The shepherd's flock to the weaver's loom
Is closely bound;
The artist's dream is the poet's verse enshrined.

And in turn, each soul
Faces that open door
Wondering, asking,
What life holds in store.
And as each soul stands at the threshold
A moment pondering,
Those age old questions
To his mind come wanderings
Whence do we come?
What shall we do?
Where do we go?
What is our task?
Why are we here?
What do we know?
Desire is the wings of life, always for something more
That's gained through struggle and strife, that beckons beyond the door.

HISTORY OF THE FRESHMAN CLASS

Our first impression, as we were met at the station by Catawba pennants, tended to produce self-consciousr ess. We naturally thought that we would be the important cog in the great wheel.

The Freshman class of '32 enrolled on September 12, 1928. After a strenuous day of activities, we were very glad indeed to retire to our respective rooms for a breathing spell, but, sad to say, it did not last long. Soon, we were hustled out for a warm reception by the "Wise Fools," commonly called Sophomores. This reception included such events as: stump speeches and a "shirt-tail parade" for the boys; Baby walk," and a child-hood prayer for the girls.

Our first mark of distinction came in the form of a little blue cap with a white "F" on the bill and a button on top. We were proud to wear it, for it distinguished us from the other students.

The Freshman class elected the following officers: President, Andrew Rader; Vice-President, James Whitener; Secretary, Alice Fisher; Treasurer, Robert Shinn; Senate Representative, Richard Hetrick. As faculty adviser, we chose Dr. John W. Myers.

The Juniors gave the Freshmen a welcome which was in the form of a Treasure Hunt. Miss Gehrette McCubbins found the treasure, which was a box of one hundred bright new pennies.

The Freshman—Sophomore rivalry came to a climax in a football game from which the Freshmen emerged victorious by the score of 6-0.

The Freshman class presented a huge spectacle by leading the parade of the entire student body to the new athletic stadium for the first home game with Elon College. At this game, we saw our class-mates, Alta Eagle and Edward Plitt, in action as cheer leaders. We were proud to honor these few of our numbers who were outstanding in athletics, and who played in that game: James Whitener, Andrew Rader, and Ralph Kesler.

Immediately after our return from Christmas vacation, we prepared to meet our fateful exams. Those who "weathered the storm" began at once to strengthen their ships for the next "affray" in June, which is said to be worse than the first.

A large number of our class enrolled in the Blue Masque. Those who starred in the play, "Once There Was a Princess" were: Jacob Kraft and Alice Fisher.

We are now looking forward to our return next year with its sweet revenge on the class of '33.

ATHENAEAN LITERARY SOCIETY

Foil Essick, President

The Athenaean Literary Society is an organization founded for the purpose of furthering interest in the pursuit of composition, debate, and oratory, and aiding its members in learning the art of expressing their thoughts with precision and poise before an audience. This is its special purpose, but an opportunity for entertainment is also offered to those who are inclined toward the social side of life.

The Athenaean Literary Society seeks to promote better sportsmanship by advocating clean rivalry between the two societies. At all times it is the wish of the society to win, but only by fair means. This helps to develop the kind of attitude that should be taken in other activities.

THE PHILOMATHEAN LITERARY SOCIETY

Nolan S. Pierce, President

The Philomathean Literary Society, not satisfied to rest its claim for support upon the fact that it is the oldest literary organization at Catawba, believes in maintaining with vigor its forward-looking traditions, and faces the future with poise and confidence. By attention to composition, debate, oratory, and parliamentary practice, it aims to fit its members for leadership and responsibility, to develop initiative and resourcefulness, and to fill them with a social and intellectual enthusiasm that will remain with them in after years. It strives to put emphasis on the rounded development of qualities that will insure a continuing usefulness in whatever activities may attract them after graduation.

THE BLUE MASQUE

Howell G. Gabriel, President

The Blue Masque, the dramatic association of Catawba College, under the direction of Mrs. John C. Busby, is one of the leading dramatic clubs in the state. The standard of the club is marked by its winning for Catawba the college championship in the state dramatic contest for the past two years. This contest is held each year, and the Blue Masque has won each time that it has entered.

The purpose of The Blue Masque is to afford a workshop where enthusiastic students may have the opportunity for growth and development in this work. It is not the aim of the Blue Masque to give finished productions, but to act as a laboratory theatre where new problems in staging, scenery, lighting, acting, and play production in general may be worked out.

To all those who are going out into the world from this organization the Blue Masque sends its most sincere wishes, and hopes for them the greatest success. "May you, when you leave us, always reserve a spot in your heart for me to dwell forever."—THE BLUE MASQUE.

THE MINISTERIAL BAND

Huitt R. Carpenter, President

In the year 1925, on the sacred grounds of Catawba, this small Band of eleven young students for the ministry under the leadership of Huitt R. Carpenter of Lenoir, organized. This was the first turning of the sod after the Band was dissolved at Old Catawba in 1923. The work of the second year was continued with five additional men, making a total of 16, and Carpenter again was its head. The next fall, with an increase of men from 16 to 23, the group forged on, having for its leader Lewis Holt of Greensboro.

In the fourth year Carpenter again was chosen President of this group, now of 25, and it is climbing ever onward.

Regular meetings have been held bi-monthly, and a social party given annually at the First Reformed Church, Salisbury. The group has conducted prayer meetings in the city and at different churches, and it has done a vital service in rendering services to the prisoners of the Rowan Chain Gang.

In conclusion, as to the Campus, the Band has furnished student leaders, and several of the Band have exemplified the goodwill attitude and have affilled a spiritual atmosphere about those with whom it lives.

REMBRANDT CLUB

ELIZABETH WARLICK, President

DR. E. DERENDINGER, Adviser

The purpose of the Rembrandt Club is to foster an interest in the study of the fine arts.

In 1928 the Club presented the history of art department with a stereoptican lantern, which greatly facilitates the use of its fine collection of art slides. During the present year a day-light screen and additional lenses have been purchased. Besides, the members of the club have pledged themselves to continue the payment of the regular class dues for five years after leaving Catawba College; it is intended to use the funds for the acquisition of some objects of art.

THE PHYSICAL EDUCATION CLUB

IRENE RUMPLE, President

BRUCILE PHILLIPS, Director

The Physical Education Club was organized in the fall of 1927, and since has been the most active organization on the campus. Its purpose is to stimulate interest in Physical Education and also to bind together those who are most interested in this field of work. Meetings are held bi-monthly in the gymnasium club room, where a business session is held followed by an interesting program. The many physical education problems are brought up for discussion also. Each fall the members of the club carefully select from twelve to fifteen girls to become new members. These new girls are carefully trained by the older members to become leaders on our campus as well as in our department. The leading physical activities for women and the social events of the campus are usually sponsored by this club.

THE MUSIC DEPARTMENT OF CATAWBA COLLEGE

The year of 1926 saw the beginning of the Music Department of Catawba College. Professor Harold Phillips is the pioneer head and can feel proud of the fruits which his labors have brought forth. He is a most capable teacher of organ and piano, and is an efficient master of his music classes. His co-worker is Miss Grace Goodykoontz who is the excellent supervisor of the voice department. Her wonderful personality has drawn many students into the other musical departments, as well as the vocal department. Because of a great love for music there came, in the preson of Mr. Arthur Rich, an assistant to Professor Phillips both in the instruction of piano and at the head of a fine course in Public School Music. Many people are cooperating in promoting our interests for the welfare of the music profession, and as a result, another music building has been added to the college buildings. This has increased the department in all of its various phases. Regular bi-monthly recitals are given in the presence of the music faculty and students. These recitals consist of vocal and instrumental numbers. There is a final recital in May to which the public is cordially invited. This is a big event in the college calendar, and is looked forward to with eagerness by all.

The music organizations are proof enough that music is an important item in life's make-up. The successful Glee Club, under the direction of Professor Phillips, makes annual tours and has many engagements to fulfill. The Symphony Orchestra organized by Mr. Rich is rapidly developing, and has been broadcasting because of it accomplished musical talent. It has rendered the services at many college functions, and is proving its worth to the fullest. We also have a music club which is the means of encouraging higher scholarship in music among the students. This club meets bi-monthly, and presents varied and excellent programs. Although recently organized, it is growing in membership and represents the true meaning of the word music.

The summer course in music is an aid in giving students and teachers further work in music which will tend to give them a degree in music. This instruction can be obtained either in Public School Work or private lessons. Many take advantage of Catawba College's Summer Course and the faculty excels in its abundant knowledge of the art. There are two sessions during the summer, at which time the opportunity is open to all.

High ranking and an understanding of music is the means of its gaining a foothold upon the masses. The emphasizing of this great art by the music department is increasing not only its own department, but Catawba College to a considerable extent. Let us put forth our effort and hasten the grading of Catawba College as a Conservatory because of the growth in its field of music.

The Home Economics Club was only organized this year, but it has been set firmly on its feet by a few enthusiastic members with the help of Miss Gray and Miss French. The Club was organized to enable girls who are majoring in Home Economics to get together and discuss such problems as may arise. Freshmen are not taken in until after the second semester begins. This is done because it enables them to have time to decide on their course.

Just before last Christmas, the Club decided that they needed money for various things, so they had a bazaar. The clothing department helped by donating their time in making Christmas gifts, which were sold. The foods department donated their time by making cakes, candies and jellies.

The Club is now making plans to join the National Club at an early date.

ATHLETIC DIRECTORS

CARL A. DAVIS - - - - - - Director of Athletics

Coach Davis came to us this year with the opening of football. It did not take his winning ways long to win over the boys. He immediately demonstrated that he knew his business by putting out a winning football team.

"Coach" has won a place in the hearts of all who know him. Especially is he idolized by the men who have spent long hours on the field and in the gym under his expert tutelage. "Coach" comes from Missouri, so you've got to show him that you are the best man before you play on his teams. He is fair and square with all. He is a good loser as well as a good winner. The best tribute to Mr. Davis may be found in these words: "He is a Christian gentleman."

BRUCILE L. PHILLIPS - Director Physical Education for Women

During her second year at Catawba Miss Phillips has greatly increased her popularity as Physical Director of the young ladies of our institution. Her tumbling team is a credit to any instructor. Truly, Miss Phillips has worked wonders in her stay at Catawba. She has plenty of pep and ability to make a hit with the girls and to teach them numberless stunts.

As well as being a teacher, Miss Phillips is a confidante and real friend of everybody. She is an all around good sport and fits into any occasion, any time, anywhere.

She believes in action as well as talk'ng, so when she speaks the weaker sex of of our institution snap into it.

AYCOCK COACH DAVIS WHITE

INDIANS DROP OPENING GAME TO MARS HILL

A fumble in the first few minutes and a long pass, completed just as the final whistle blew, spelled defeat for the Indians. Catawba received the opening kick-off and reeled off two first downs in succession. On an attempted line buck the ball was fumbled. An alert Mars Hill end picked up the abounding pigskin and reeled off 65 yards for a touchdown.

Up until the last minute of play the game was played in midfield with Catawba holding the edge in first downs, nine to five. A long pass, Bruce to Rumfeldt, gave the Lions their final score. Both attempts at extra points were blocked.

The great defensive work of "Red" Aycock and the playing of Ryan and Gabriel stood out for Catawba.

A. C. C's SCALP BROUGHT HOME

In one of the hardest fought games ever played in Wilson, North Carolina, the Catawba Indians bested the Christians 7 to 3. The game was a great defensive scrap on the part of both teams. It was a battle between the two lines from start to finish. A. C. C's line was a shade the best, but the presence of "Red" Whitener and "Red" Aycock behind the Catawba line made things quite even. Late in the second quarter, "Red" Whitener recovered a fumble on the ten yard line and stumbled to the two yard line. From this point of vantage, "Chick" Miller took one try at right tackle and went over. "Chick" made the extra point from placement.

A. C. came back with a rush in the second half. With Munn leading the offensive they battled their way to Catawba's 25 yard line. Here the Indians stopped them. From this point Munn booted a beautiful field goal.

Munn was the loser's star, while Fesperman, Miller, Aycock and Whitener were best for the locals.

FINCH BOONE GABRIEL FESPERMAN RYAN

EXTRA POINT BEATS ELON

The unerring toe of "Chick" Miller was the margin of Catawba's win over Elon. This extra point came after Catawba's first score.

Elon started with a rush and ere the first quarter was over they had pushed over a tally. Try for point failed. Again in the second quarter Elon rose to the heights and scored. Their try for point was blocked.

The Indians retaliated in the second quarter and with Miller and Fesperman leading the attack scored and made good the extra point. Not to be outdone, "Kitty" Finch, "Andy" Rader and "Redheads" Kesler and Aycock produced the winning touchdown early in the third quarter. During this drive the scrappy Indian line was tearing great holes in the heavier Elon line.

The game ended just as Catawba had stopped Elon dead on the two yard line for four successive downs.

MILLIGAN BOWS TO CATAWBA 13 TO 0

Playing at night and in the rain to boot, Catawba's grid machine worked as a football team should and came off a mud-soaked field with the right end of a thirteen to nothing score.

"Kitty" Finch started things with a 65 yard return of a punt. A few line plays and a pass put the ball on the two yard stripe. Aycock went over and Miller circled left end for the extra point. A few moments later Gabriel blocked a punt and Frazier, recovering, went 25 yards for a touchdown.

Quoting "Tobe" Edwards, Milligan coach: "Catawba showed East Tennessee the hardest driving set of backs and the best line ever to represent a little college in that part of the country." Milligan put up a beautiful scrap, but they were out-fought and outplayed all the way through.

MILLER CANUP SUMMERSETT FLETCHER SMITH

BATTLE LENOIR-RHYNE TO A SCORELESS TIE

In the second home game of the season the Indians fought the Bears to a draw. Five times during the afternoon Lenoir-Rhyne rose to the occasion and stopped the hard driving Blue and White team when it threatened to score.

Catawba clearly outplayed her opponent but the scoring punch was lacking when most needed. Lenoir-Rhyne never threatened. The Indian defense was too strong.

"Chick" Miller got loose for a 70 yard run and what looked like a sure tally but a speedy Bear overhauled him and it was all off.

The great work of both teams on the defensive was the outstanding feature of the engagement.

TROUNCED BY ERSKINE

With eight men ruled ineligible by S. I. A. A. rules, Catawba was thoroughly trounced by the Erskine Seceders.

The South Carolinians seemed to gain when and where they wanted to through the line, around the ends, and through the air. Most of their scores came as the results of long, accurate forward passes that the Catawba backs just couldn't seem to reach. Tho the whole Erskine team played jam-up football while the Indians seemed to be in quite a daze.

Aycock scored Catawba's lone touchdown in the third quarter. Frazier played a good game at tackle. The rest of the team fought, but they just didn't seem to be there The final score was 45 to 7.

WHITENER HOLSINGER GLOVER KESLER FRAZIER

THRILLER WON FROM WINGATE

Snapping out of a daze that seemed to envelope them the week before, the Indians fought their way to a thrilling win over the scrappy Wingate outfit.

Catawba kicked off to Wingate and held them for downs. Wingate punted and Catawba marched 70 yards for a touchdown. Not considering the game lost, Wingate did some marching of their own and scored a touchdown plus the extra point.

On the kick-off that followed, "Red" Kesler picked up perfect interference and ran 80 yards for Catawba's second touchdown.

Late in the last quarter, Jones intercepted a Catawba pass and knocked off 95 yards for a score. Wingate lead 13-12. With six minutes left in the game the Indians bowed their necks and drove 60 yards for the winning tally.

CHAMPIONSHIP OF LITTLE SIX DROPPED TO GUILFORD

In a bitterly contested struggle, before a Homecoming Crowd, Catawba and Guilford battled it out for the title of the "Little Six". Guilford won 7-0. Two 15 yard penalties in succession gave the Quakers a first down on the three yard line and Cheek went over on the fourth try. Cheek kicked the extra point.

During the remainder of the game the Indians played rings around the Quakers. No less than five times was Catawba inside the 15 yard line, but the scoring punch was lacking.

At the opening of the second half Miller returned the kick-off 80 long yards before he was caught from behind by Moore on the 10 yard line.

This game marked the final appearance of Captain "Red" Aycock, "Chick" Miller, "Clown" Ryan, "Diddle" Gabriel, Roy Frazier, and "Ike" Boone.

THE SEASON

Tackling the hardest schedule ever attempted by a Catawba Basketball team, the Indian Basketeers came through the season with quite a bit of success. Nine games were won and thirteen lost. Considering the calibre of the teams met, this record is not to be scoffed at.

Getting off to a slow start with a new system, the Indians got going in mid-season. Once going, this club mowed down opposition with regularity, and was a tough nut for the best of them to crack. The last games of the season were played against the best teams met during the year.

Miller, Everhart, White and Finch did most of the scoring, with Carpenter, Kesler, Safrit, Fletcher, and Whitener playing second fiddle in swishing them through the hoop. All of these men played steady, consistent basketball throughout the season.

Eight of these nine men will return next year to fight it out for the varsity berths. Miller is the only one who will be missing when the call of the hard wood is heard next year.

WHITE DEAL FINCH PEELER

THE BASEBALL SEASON OF 1928

The 1928 baseball season can hardly be called a successful one from the standpoint of games won and lost. Five were won and ten were lost, while three were rained out. Three games were dropped by the margin of one run, while two went into extra innings before they were lost.

"Archie" White was the work horse of the pitching staff. He worked in nine games, winning four and losing four. "Archie" pitched eight full games and relieved in one. Weak hitting and erratic fielding lost most of the games. One day the club would look like a million dollars, while the next day you would hardly think it was the same ball club.

"Hube" Deal lead the team in hitting with an average well above the select .400 mark. "Chick" Miller was also above the .400 mark but was a few points behind Deal.

The close of the baseball season marked the close of Flake Laird's coaching days at Catawba. The club played it's best game as a final tribute to him, but lost it after a twelve inning struggle with the Guilford Quakers. The score was 2-1.

Captain Farmer was the only man to finish his career with the Guilford game, and things look good for a good club in '29.

FESPERMAN BOONE RYAN SMITH

BASEBALL PROSPECTS FOR 1929

The crack of bat against horse-hide is resounding as we go to press. Eight veterans are returning and a fine looking bunch of youngsters are out there to give them trouble in holding down their jobs for another season.

Captain Miller is back at first; Smith is back at second; Safrit at short, and Ryan at third, finish out the veteran infield. Finch will be in the outfield again. White, Boone, and Fesperman will again ascend the mound for pitching duties. Captain Miller may also be counted on to win a few games from the mound.

The way things look now we are in for the best season of baseball that we have ever enjoyed. The club can field and hit that old apple plenty good. Anybody that crosses bats with the Indians during the '29 season will have their hands full.

We are looking for a majority of wins this season and believe there are enough hits in the old war clubs to put these games on the right side of the book.

VARSITY TRACK CLUB

JAMES FLETCHER - - - - - - Captain
ROY FRAZIER - - - - - - - Manager
CARL A. DAVIS - - - - - - - Coach

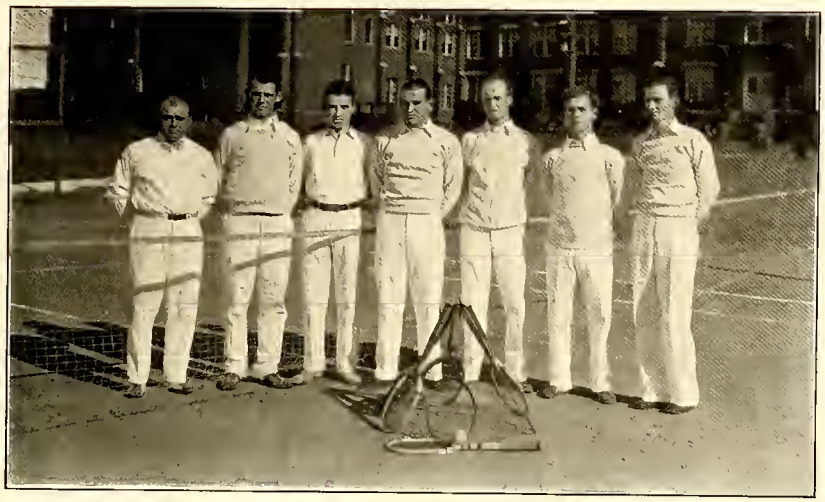
As we go to press the Track Club has only been out a short time. Some of the material at hand looks plenty good, while some looks fair. With only three letter men returning, there is plenty of room for men of ability. This is the first year that the track team has had the benefit of a coach, and while we do not predict any feats worthy of Olympic notice we do believe that the team will show marked improvement over the ones of the past.

Meets are being scheduled with the best that the smaller colleges of the state have to offer. Though these meets may not be placed in the win column, our opposition will know they have been through a tough scrap.

The letter men returning are Captain Fletcher, Aycock, and C. W. Warlick. With these men as nucleus, Coach Davis gives promise of developing a cinder team of no mean ability.



VARSITY TENNIS CLUB

ELMO LEONARD - - - - -	Captain
CLAIR RHODES - - - - -	Manager
BRUCE A. WENTZ - - - - -	Coach

Tennis is the baby of Catawba's athletics. This is only the second year of it's existence at our institution. Though young, this sport is quite popular and the old school is represented on the courts by men of no mean ability.

This year our racqueteers are becoming quite ambitious and are taking on quite a number of the larger schools in this section.

BRUCILE E. PHILLIPS - - - - Director

The Catawba Tumblers were organized in the spring of 1928. Their purpose is to stimulate physical activity and wholesome recreation for the young ladies of our institution. Through determination and constant practice many daring and difficult acrobatic stunts have been perfected. The skill of these young ladies is not to be scoffed at. They have performed before the Kiwanians and the Civitans and have given programs before the student bodies of Farm Life, Mount Pleasant, and Spencer high schools.

Besides these programs the girls have given performances before literary societies, in chapel, and at parties. Their act is one of the features of the annual circus at Catawba.
